Sharp Political Debate in the Senate.

HILL AND ELKINS GET PERSONAL

Lively Fight on the Sundry Civi Bill Expected in the House

Monday.

Washington, March 27,-The senate indulged in an acrimonious political de hate today which developed much per sonal and party feeling and brought on two sharp personal exchanges between Mr. Hill and Mr. Elkins. The controstrike from the pending appropriation aggramming of the New Market Teghnia-ture from December to May. Mr. Hill vigorously denounced the change as a "political trick" which had been "eneaked into" this appropriation bill in order, as he claimed, to postpone the meeting of the Democratic legisla-ture in the hope that's Republican Presicontrol of the territory changed. Mr steased in. Pick taxings of solutions are the senators was very animated but Mr. Hill persisted in the use of his adjectives. Later Mr. Brice sought to question Mr. Elkina, when the latter brought to the feneive personal dispatch which had been sent to Mr. Brice from New Mexico. The debate took a wide range, Senators Gorman, Faulkner, Cockrell and other Democrats taking the provision as political while Senators Elkina, Carter, Collom and other Republican senators defended it.

Mr. Cullom sought to table Mr. Hill's motion, but in a motion to this effect falled, 21 to 29, whereupon Mr. Cullom yielded to the Hill motion and the New Mexico provision was struck out.

At the close of the day the senate passed the legislative appropriation bill, carrying $21,500,000. Aside from providing the usual appropriation bill is important, as effecting a reform of the system of sompensation for United States district attorneys and marshale, salaries being substituted for fees.

Mr. Morrill of Vermont presented a worshle report on the bill propensing the purchase of a square opposite the sast front of the capitol for a supreme court building. The legislative suprepriation bill was then taken up. The menting question was the motion of Mr. Shlerman to atrike out all provisions relating to the chance of compensation from fees to salaries for United States district afterneys and marshale.

Mr. Hills offered a further amendment of the capitol for a supreme court building, The legislative suprepriation bill was then taken up. The menting question was the motion of Mr. Shlerman deliving 4000 for the large district of Massachusetts, eastern Penneculation and cortains.

Mr. Alias offered a further amendment of placing "frierer" on appropriation bills, but no required this reform as exceptional and nestrable.

At the close of the deluxeion Mr. Vilne's amendment was defeated on a viva voce vote.

A roll call followed on Mr. Sherman's amendment and it was defeated, 18 to

At this point Mr. Hill created some-thing of a sensation. He moved to strike out the provision that the legisla-tive assembly of New Mexico shall meet propriation to force the approval of the President.

The senator went on to explain that the present legislature, which was Democratic, would meet in December. But it was attempted by this unsendment to put off the meeting of the legislature until May in the hope that a Republican President might be inangurated in the meantime. It was a contemptible trick to "sneak in" a political advantage. "What right have you to say "sneak?" interrupted Mr. Elkins, Republican of West Yirginia. "What methority inve you for such a statement?" "An" responded Mr. Hill with anction, "I thought I would attrup the senator from New Mexico. I see beside him the nuttior of this plan, who on the minute is here to whisper in his_est in "I now

"What I mean by 'encaked in,'" proceeded Mr. Hill, "is that it is unworthy that this political trick should be tried in connection with a great appropriation but it.

Mr. Elkins responded that the house of representatives in the exercise of its rights had introduced this proposed rights had introduced this proposed change, After further actimonions debate Mr. Onlion, Republican of Illinois, in-clarge of the hill, explained that the amendment cure from the hones in the regular way.

Mr. Carter, Republican of Montana, followed in defense of the amendment.

Mr. Hill answered that he did not complain of the presence of the New Mexico delegate (Mr. Carten) who sat alongside Mr. Carter, but he did object to having that delegate attempt to secure this special anneadment, Mr. Hill moved to strike out the New Mexico provision, and he appealed to the Republican senators to make the striking out unanimous, as the amendment was "elearly political."

Mr. Daniele, Democrat of Virginia, spote against the amendment.

Mr. Elkine defended the proposition, saying the delegate wanted it, and was better qualified to speak of an amendment "maneaked in;" was a good authority on a question of tasto. Mr. Elkine declared the amendment was not political.

At this point another headed personal

Mr. Elkine' reference was to the offenelve telegram sent by Governor Thornton and others to Mr. Brice.
"The governor withdraw his statements," said Mr. Brice.
"But what was the telegram that the governor sent concerning the senator?"

A Bit of Railroad

Mr. Brice responded again that the telegram had been properly disavowed by the governor.

"What did the governor say in that telegram shout the senator from Ohid?" persisted Mr. Eikins.

Mr. Brice explained that the governor had attended a meeting from which a telegram was sent reflecting on him (Brice), but subsequently the governor had publicly disavowed responsibility and had made suitable amends. Turning his attention to the ponding amendment, Mr. Brice said that if it was a political trick it was unworthy to he brought here. On its face the charge was well founded, and under the circumstances Mr. Brice said the would oppose the amendment.

Mr. Elkins said the amendment of Brice disclosed that the amendment.

Mr. Elkins said the governor had been mistaken on one important occasion, so that it was fair to presume ite might be in this case and that the delegate might be better atthorize than the governor.

Mr. Brukmer. Democrat of West Virmight be notice that the governor.

Mr. Faulkner, Democrat of West Virginia, opposed the amendment on the ground that it was political and it was based an the hope that a Republican President would be elected.

"Do I understand," seked Mr. Wolcott, "the senator says a Republican President will be elected."

"No," responded Mr. Faulkner, who is chairman of the Democratic coppressional committee, "only those of the most vivid imagination and who dream when they are walking will say that."

who would name a Republican governor of New Maxico.

"West this right and honorable?" saked Mr. Cockrell. "on the part of a party branded "G. O. P. !"

At this point Mr. Wolcott moved that when the senste adjourned it be until Monday. Mr. Cullom protested that the senste ought to complete the pending appropriation bill. Mr. Gorman suggested that there should not be any haste in disposing of the pending amendment.

haste in disposing of the pending amendment.

'This is the first time in twelve years,' said Mr. Gorman, 'that a purely political question has been brought into the discussion of an appropriation. There should be full opportunity for debate, and there must be.'

Mr. Cullom opposed adjourning over Saturday and demanded a rollcall, on which the motion to adjourn over Saturday prevailed—33 to 12.

Mr. Cullom moved to lay on the table the motion of Mr. Hill to strike out the New Mexico provision.

The sance at 1.45 went into executive seesion, and later adjourned until Monday.

Mr. Elkins declared the amendment was not bold and the declared the amendment was not bold did as o far as he knew.

At this point another heated personal colloquy occurred, Mr. Birise and Mr. Elkins being the participants.

"Were you not at one time delegate from New Mexico," asked Mr. Birise, and Group was the stone of the controlled jointly for fifteen years by Chinn and Russia. At the end of that time ever addressing Mr. Elkins.

BAYARD'S LATEST,

Ambassador Bayard does not display that contrite spirit which might have been expected in a public servant whom congress had just seen fit to censors. Evidently he is possessed of the idea that he is right and congress is wrong. In the course of a response to a toset, at the Lord Mayor banquet, in London,

In the course of a response to a touct, at the Lord Mayor' banquet, in London, the other night, he said:

"Your kindred beyond the seas are not always unanimone. Nevertheless, there is one your that appeals to them all. Since I came to England I have never found ourselvould say at home. There is nothing a would say at home that I would not say here, and there is nothing I would say here, and there is nothing I would say here, that I would not say here, the three is nothing I would say here, the three is nothing I would say here, and there is nothing I would say there that I would not say a home. I do not expect unanimity. When the time shall come that a man shall not dare to speak the thoughts that ewell within him for the public good, God help the country."

This is Ambassador Bayard's indorected it is an assurance that what he has said he would say again if the occasion offered. Anybody may admire his plack, but, as in the old story, his discretion is more debatable. His anconcement, that "there is nothing I pinck, but, as in the old story, his de-cretion is more debatable. His an-nouncement that "there is nothing I would say at home that I would not say would say at nome that I would not say bere" naturally raises the question whether Mr. Bayard does not imper-feetly conceive the duties of his high collecoffice.

If there is a proposition which should be very clear it is that a citizen may rightfully and more or less wisely say things in his home country which he could not rightfully or wisely say one a representative of his government in a foreign land. A man, for instance, may wishtfully be a partian in word and ioreim iand. A man, for instance, may rightfully be a partisan in word and art here: he may not rightfully be such, either in word or act, while he performs the high duties of an ambassador at an alien court. What would be thought of arrador from Great Britain to all take suvantage of the occasion to terate the adherents of protection in Engined? His honesty might be con-ceded, but the popular estimate of his indement would sink below par. The trouble with Ambaesador Bayard is ambounced by himself in the foregoing is ambounced by himself in the foregoing quotation. Being perfectly honest in being a partisan, he has not the least ides in the world why he should not be a partisan in his official capacity. He does not appear to remine that it is a nation, and not a party, which he represents that it is a perfect in the representative of a free trade administration, he thinks; therefore, why sereation, he thinks; therefore, why the representative of a free trade admin-mension, be thinks; therefore, why should be not salt free trade. The idea is not that of a man who is broad enough mentally to represent the United States in a foreign court. In just eleven months and one week from today a Republican will take his seat in the Presidential chair. One of the very first acts of his administration should be the naming of a successor to Mr. Bayard. Mr. Bayard.

THE FATE OF CHINA.

What purports to be the terms of the treaty between China and Russia has been published. No doubt the Chinese diplomets, believe they have cained to diplomats believe they have gained a decided advantage, not only over Rusia, but over the rest of the world. By iia, but over the rest of the word. In that treaty, Rossis map build a branch of the Siberian rallway southward through Manchuria to Port Arthur; fortify that harbor and occupy it; use any other harbors on the cosulot China; any other harbors on the coast of China; fortify against an attack by land on Viadivosiock, or an attack by way of Corea upon the Siberian railway. In Corea control of the seed of war with Japan Runesia may cross China territory into Corea. China makes many other concessions to Runesia, and in return is promised help in case of war with other nations.

Runesia has been pursuing the policy which has been the favorite method of that nation since before the days of Peter the Great. A foothold in a covetest territory is obtained by sharp diplomacy and fair promises, and no backward step is ever taken. The foothold soon becomes a stronghold, and from that there is but one etep to annexation. The Russian ampire has grown by that process from a small territory north of the Black sea till at present it reaches one-third of the way round the world. The northern provinces of China will be the next addition. Afexander the Great conquered nations by great and Great conquered nations by great and decisive battles. The Russians creep and encroach, little by little, and never yield an inch of territory once occupied as an outpost. The movement is slow, but the power is irresistible. The ansign territory of China has an angest of the second of the second of the second output out cient empire of Chinz has entered upon the last page of its history when it per-mits Russia to cross the frontier under the guise of a friend.

RANDOM REMARKS.

Thunder and lightning and a wind storm, all in one day, in California! President Cleveland may think that the weet is too wild and worlly, but, just the same, it may as well be understood that there is such a thing as easternizing this country altogether too rapidly.

When Rev. C. O. Brown was on trial before the church couprel he testined under oath that he paid the money to Mrs. Davidson because he feared what she might do. When the same minister of the roopel appeared in court as the proceeding witness exainet Mrs. Davidson his sworn teetimony amounted to a statement that he did not pay the money because he feared the woman. The San Francisco women who heaped Rev. Brown's pulpit with flowers, last Sunhay, would better aid a few thousands to the pile, for the reverend individual is not slow in adding to the record that needs some rort of a mantle over it. Hayti is a problem for social study. It was peopled by slaves who achieved their independence, and for awhile propered in their climb toward civilization, but after a time they began to sink, and ioday many of them are little better than the lowest savages of Africa. Torer is, however, a class which has been reasonably successful in advancement. Hippolyle was better than the nation the ruled; but he was often crued in the extreme. By no other method could he have ruled so long and successfully.

"A MILK WHITE FLAG."

Hoyt's Big Company at the Barton
Next Wednesday.

Hoyt's most entertaining comedy, "A Milk White Flag," will be the attraction at the Barton opera house for one night, April 1st, and it is use of the heartiest kind of a second from its many admirers here. Charles loyt, that most humorous and perlift of comedy writers, has produced untein pletter in the line of good-bard railends than this genial travesty come amateur soldiers of the militia. The fun of the piece turns of the funeral preparations of the partient larly lively corps at Pigott Lace, and the quickly cheerfal and facciuating demeanor of the alleged widow. The adventures of the Ransome thands in their attempt to hold a military insersi and outshine a rival organization, are so extrawgantly humorous that the motionee are convenised with tanghter all the time. No play of Hoyt's is so constantly entertaining and so lively of antion as "A Milk White Flag," It is morrover, the most elaborate and pretentions of the Hoyt comedies. Among the principal members of the organization, which includes over lifty people, are Charles Stanley, Lloyd Wilson, E.
S. Weutworth, John Holland, Will Distin, Frank Lawton, John Marbel, Clarises Agnew, Sara Mandern, Affe
Warner, George A. Reane, Charles Warmay Billin, Carria Reger and othere.

TEN BLOCK SYSTEM.

METHOD OF MAPPING COUNT RUADS.

> ouses are Numbered and Point of Interest Are Mentloned.

The suggestion has been made from time to time that county reads, at least in those parts where there is considera-ble travel, should be named, numbered and measured, and sign boards placed at all cross roads. With Fresno's nearly 1500 miles of reads, this would be as at all cross roads. With Fresno's nearly 1500 miles of rants, this would be an undertaking of no small character; but it does not of necessity follow that the process should be applied to all the highways at once it does not of necessity follow that the process should be applied to all the bigleways at once.

Contra Costa county has put the plan in operation, and the results so far have been satisfactory. A briof explanation of the principal features may be given. A road is named. It is measured, becausing at the county seat. It is divided into ten blocks to the mile. Every block is numbered, similarly to the late in a city, the odd numbers on one side, the evan on the other. Each house has the number of the block on which it stands. It two or more honese occupy the same block they are distinguished as 21 a, 21 b, 21 c.

Road books, convenient in size for carrying in the pocket, are provided for travelers and others who want them. A map is contained in it of every road, and by referring to the index of numbers it can be seen who lives in overy house along the road. There is still further information concerning points of interest within sight of the road. The system is one which is of much merit, and in small and thickly estibled continuits it would not be comparatively expensive, but on the West Suice or in some parts of the east side of Freeno cautry, the long stretches of monatonous roads would not receive much benefit from maps, when there would be only about one house in five miles. In the colonies around Freano such a system would be very desirable.

holders, and suctained great loss cause Huntington failed to live up to his part of the agreement."

The above dispatch will be read with considerable interest by the people of Fresno county in view of the fact that there has always been a question in the initials of the people as to whether Pollasky came here in the emplay of the Southern Pacific to build the road or wisether he built the road on his own account and cold out afterwards. He stouly maintained after he turned the road over to the Southern Pacific that he had a good chance to sell, and did an, but that the road was commenced on his own account. If the New York dispatch is correct, if english to settle the matter as to who induced Pollasky to cause here.

that others had promised to do so in a day or two.

The special effort of the committee will now be to bring the work of securing rights of way to a close as soon as mussible. The railroad has announced that work at this and will commence as soon as the right of way is settled. There are four persons who have not yet some to terms our rights of way. Offers have been made them, but they will not accept. The committee feels that it has done corrything fair, and unless terms are agreed to within four or five days, condemnation suits will be prought.

or live days, condemnation suits with brought.

The railroad company is anxious to commence work on the Sun Joaquin bridge not later than the latter part of April. The committee hopes to wind up its business by April 16th.

The rights of way in Madera county are nearly secured. It is hoped that work can begin on the Sun Joaquin river bridge in time to have the structure ready for the rails when the grading is done to that point. It will be a large structure and cannot be built in a few days.

ween might makes right whether one is dealing with Indians or rabbits. And in the Old Testament account of it, "God gave man dominion over the birds of the air, the beasts of the fidd and over every living thing that movell upon the earth." (Knowing man's propensity to want and get everything on earth and put a fence around it. I suppose He thought it might just as well best'ed that way first as last.)

He also said that man was to lawe for meat "every green lest-bearing seed," and "the fruit of every tree bearing seed," and it is provided that the ribbits really have no case at all. But I think, I really do, that the views of the correspondent who suggested that some other means be found to exterminate them should commend themselves to those of us who don't like being considered wild and savage out here in the west.

If the Brown man through his suffer-

If the Brown man through his suffering shall have his views of humanity and true Christiantly somewhat broadened, not in vain will he have suffered. In thanking, publicly, those who had shown him kindnesses, he took occasion to say last Sunday: "One act of kindness came from a person of the Hebrow race, and it was an act that I never will forget. The members of the Catholic clerry also sympathized with me and stood by me. It was a great eurprise to me when I had been oneally antaquistic to the principles of their roligion. I never expected such kind treatment from the Catholice."

Now why should the Brown person be surprised at kind treatment from a theirew or a Catholic? Does not the same God who taught through Christ and through the soul of every one who gets near enough to listen: "Love you what thank have ye? do not even the Pharisees the same?"—or in other words, if you are kind to you, bow much better are you than people who claim no God power—does not the same God who taught this pour His spirit alike on Helrew, Catholic, Protestant, and even on the agnostic, the indied who is just as much God's own, even if he has not acknowledged bin?

Is not the spirit of rising above self the very essence of the God power that has been preached for ages?

Does the Rev. Mr. G. O. Brown, doctor of divinity, believe in it as a verity or was he "only preaching" all thee years he wonly preaching. "It he R. M. C. O. B. time by cheering prominent members as they entered. The first grand rally came when Chairman Geo. II. Lyman, followed by the state committee, mounted the platform. Lyman called the convention to order.

The call was read, and Dishop Lawrence offered prayer.

A committee on credentials and one on permanent organization were appointed. Congressman Samuel W. McCall of Winchester was chosen permanent chairman. His introduction was the signal for a creat ovation.

Winchester was chosen permanuat chairman. His introduction was the signal for a great ovation.

Chairman McCall addressed himself first to the business situation and attributed the prevailing depression to the Democratic party. He said the first act of Cleveland was to put the treasury department in the backs of a gentleman of such finance incapacity as was mover before known in high cillice.

"If, fellow Republicans, you want a leader who will make not only a great candidate, but a great President, whose administration will strengthen the party through the signal benefits it will confer upon the century, then ask the Republicanes of two nation to join hands with you and put at the head of their column in the bettle of '96 that man of dauntless courage and untainted honor, that great parliamentarian who beat down the observation that paralyxed the house of representatives, that broad minded and enlightened statesman, Thomas Bruckett Reel, of Maine."

It's a popular notion that man does all the wooins; but didn't you ever, ever, ever, in your life, life, life, wear a pink rose in your bosom because he liked pink roses? Didn't you ever wear a white dress just because he said you always lonked like an angel in white? Didn't you ever by a glance that was part defiance, part tender invitation, woo him from across the room to a place at your side? Didn't you ever, when you were a little fraud show a tender instinct in his work and in his mother? Didn't you naways show the sweet eide of your nature and "talk pretty" when he was with you? Did you never deluid any poor, helpless man into thinking you were the dearest little woman in the world? If you never dill, all I can any le, you're missed a lot of sweetness, Doctor, and some fon.

Society girls in carriages will be an atractive feature of the floral parade, though, and who that knows the loveliness of takkand's daughters doubts that carriaght. Hearts will be down to Their Majesties exactly in proportion as youth, beauty and loveliness of soul are theirs, and not according to the number of dollars the father, brothers and Ton, Jonk and larry are willing and able to pay for having one of them willed queen. And why should we be denied the privilege of looking on lots of pretty girls for the eake of a queen of "nicks."

There come times when one finds one-self and one's ideas brought up against a stone wall. That's where I am. Ever since I first heart of those rabbit drives they seemed crush brutal affairs. That women should enjoy them was almost incredible. Yet I notice that a large proportion of those who go out to look on, if not to slaughter, are women. "But," said my friend who was there, "i's so exciting." And she told me about the round-up or whatever you call it.
